If one has to defer his/her registration, with good reason, he/she should file, prior to the appointed registration day, an application to clarify the situation. Generally 2 weeks is the upper limit for such a deferment. Unless there is force majeure, failure to apply for a deferment or keep the time limit will automatically nullify the student's admission status.

For a scholarship student, failure to meet the registration deadline without permission for his/her deferment will automatically nullify his/her admission status and scholarship status as well.

Article 2 The following documents are required for an international freshman to be validly registered: passport, Acceptance Letter, Visa Application for Study in China (JW201/JW202), the highest diploma previously obtained (original), academic record (original), Registration Form of Temporary Residence for Foreigners, 4 passport photos, lease agreement (if one intends to live off campus). Failure to submit any one of the above documents will be denied registration.

The university will check the student status of every international freshman. Those whose student status have been confirmed will be officially enrolled and registered. If an international student's documents such as Letter of Admission, the highest diploma obtained previously, etc. are found not corresponding to the real situation, or he/she has failed to meet the prescribed requirements, he/she will be denied registration.

Self-financed international students should pay for their tuition, insurance and textbooks as prescribed by the university. They are also required to present necessary proof of payment upon registration. Failure to complete the required payment before the deadline will automatically nullify the student's admission status.

Article 3 At the beginning of each semester every international student is required to be present on campus, complete prescribed payment, register with his/her college with his/her passport and student ID. If one cannot complete the registration before the deadline, he/she should file an application for a deferment. Students who have failed to file the application for deferment or to obtain approval of the deferment will be denied registration. Students who have failed to complete prescribed payment or to abide by other regulations on registration will also be denied registration. An international student who has not been successfully registered will not be considered as a regular student of Zhejiang Normal University.

At the end of the 2 weeks after the registration day, each college is required to check those unregistered international students and report their names to the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation.

Article 4 Full scholarship students are required to register with his/her college on the designated day. Their living allowance will start from the day they have completed the registration.

A graduate student is allowed to apply for an extension if he/she finds it unable to finish his/her program on time. An extension is one semester and the total extensions should not exceed 2 years.

Moreover, there is no scholarship for an extended international student. He/she has to pay required tuition to cover the extended semester(s).

(e) One has failed or refused to submit required assignments or course paper before a prescribed deadline.

(5) All the courses for international students will be examined and graded. The exam score can be presented on a 100-point scale, or on a 5-grade basis, or in terms of Pass and Fail. The exam scores/grades of all registered courses will be included in the student's academic record. For a course that has been repeated, only the highest mark will be entered.

(6) If a student has failed the exam for a selected course, he/she is allowed to take a make-up exam, or repeat the course in later semesters, or change to another course in later semesters to make up the lost credit. But if he/she has failed the make-up exam for a compulsory course, he/she will be required to repeat it in later semesters. The student in question is allowed to choose a later semester for repetition, based on the Guide to Course Selection/Registration and the Curriculum Plan.

(7) Those who intend to apply for graduation ahead of schedule are required to complete their internship after they have obtained all the required credits (excluding the internship and graduation thesis/design).

Article 8 Chinese and Overview of China are the two compulsory courses for college-level international degree students. Political Theories is the compulsory course for international students whose major is philosophy or politics.

Article 9 Chinese is the regular working language in academic instruction for international students. The university can also offer courses instructed in foreign languages (i.e., languages other than Chinese). A college-level international degree student whose courses are instructed in a foreign language is required to write his/her graduation thesis in this foreign language, but with an abstract in Chinese. His /Her oral defense is allowed to be conducted in this foreign language. For those whose courses have been instructed in Chinese, their oral defense is required to be conducted in Chinese.

Article 10 If an international student has published a research paper, or obtained a patent, or taken part in a social activity, or been involved in a creative project, and if the experience/achievement is related to his/her academic study, such experience/achievement can be converted into academic credits and documented in his/her academic record. See related regulations issued by the university.

Article 11 For an international student who has transferred from another university or into another discipline (major), the scores or credits that he/she has obtained in his/her previous university or discipline (major) will be deemed valid after they are approved by the Undergraduate Teaching Department or the Graduate School.

Article 12 For an international student who has stopped his/her academic study in ZJNU because of withdrawal, the academic credits he/she has earned will be documented in his/her academic record and be valid within 5 years. The validity of these credits will be ended 5 years after the date on which they have been obtained. If a withdrawn international student has resumed his/her study in ZJNU, the university will decide whether the credits he/she has earned prior to his/her withdrawal can contribute to his/her graduation, based on the Curriculum Plan for International BA Candidates or the Curriculum Plan for International MA Candidates.

Article 13 The scores or credits earned by an international student during his/her visiting study or exchange or in a joint program will be regulated according to related documents issued by ZJNU.

Article 14 Every semester each international student is required to take the examination for each of his/her selected courses or compulsory procedures (hereafter referred to as “courses”). The marks or grades will be included in his/her academic record. Only when he/she has passed an exam can he/she be awarded due credit(s).

Article 15 Examinations will be conducted under the Regulations on Examination in ZJNU.

Article 16 Anyone who has violated regulations on examination will get zero on the course. The zero score will be included in his/her academic record with an annotation of “Regulation Violation.” Besides, he/she will be duly punished.

CHAPTER 4 DISCIPLINE AND ATTENDANCE REGULATION

Article 17 All the international students are supposed to participate in the academic activities specified in the Curriculum Plan and other activities arranged or organized by the university. They are also required to strictly follow regulations on class attendance. Those who have made poor attendance will receive an official warning. Those who have defied university regulations will be expelled and deprived of their student status.

Article 18 All the international students should respect classroom order and make an energetic commitment to a lesson. Late arrival at or early departure from class is prohibited.

Article 19 All the international students should follow the supervisor’s instructions when engaged in a fieldwork. Those who somehow cannot take part in such fieldwork should ask for leave from the supervisor or the person in charge. Anyone who has left without permission or approval will be marked with an Unexcused Absence.

Article 20 When an international student, due to illness or other special reasons, cannot attend a class or participate in an activity arranged or organized by the university, he/she should ask for leave in advance. When there is an emergency or accident, the person involved should file a make-up request for leave within 3 days.

Article 21 When an international student intends to ask for leave, he/she is required to fill in the Request for Leave, stating the reason for and the time/date of the leave. Medical proof is needed for a sick leave while justifiable reasons are needed for a compassionate leave.

Article 22 International students are required to report their return after a leave. Failure to make the report will be deemed as an Overstay. Application for the extension of a leave should be made before the leave is due.

Article 23 An international BA candidate's leave is within the power of his/her college to approve. However, if his/her leave exceeds 7 days, it should be registered, after its approval by his/her college, in the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation.

Article 24 For an international MA candidate in his/her lecture phase (prior to the thesis phase), if his/her leave does not exceed 3 days, it is within the power of his/her supervisor (or the clerk in charge of graduate students' affairs in the college, if no supervisor has been appointed for the student in question) to approve. If the leave exceeds 3 days but not 2 weeks, after the supervisor has given his/her consent, it will be within the power of his/her college to approve. If the leave exceeds 2 weeks, the student in question has to obtain the consent from his/her supervisor and the approval from his/her college before it goes to the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for registration.

For an international MA candidate in his/her thesis phase, if his/her leave does not exceed 2 weeks, it is within the power of his/her supervisor to approve. If the leave exceeds 2 weeks but not 1 month, the candidate in question has to obtain the consent from his/her supervisor and the approval from his/her dean before it is registered in the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation. If his/her business leave exceeds 1 month, the candidate in question has also to obtain the consent from his/her supervisor and the approval from his/her college before it goes to the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for registration.

If a university task that is not included in the Curriculum Plan entails a business leave, it should be approved by a college before it goes to the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for registration.

If there is an emergency that will defer an international MA candidate's return to campus, he/she is allowed to file an application for the deferment via fax, email, mail, etc. and submit necessary proof to his/her college upon his/her return.

Article 25 International students are required to keep the university calendar to take classes, vacations, and holidays.

Article 26 Absence from class without an application for leave or leave extension or an approval of a leave (or leave extension) will not be excused. In such cases, the student in question will also be duly disciplined.

Article 27 International students who have made unexcused absences will be duly disciplined in accordance with the Regulations on Students' Discipline in ZJNU. Article 28 The teacher in charge of a course is responsible for the roll call in his/her class. He /She is also required to report in time the results of the roll call to the clerk in charge of international students' affairs of his/her college.

Article 29 If a scholarship student has broken university discipline, his/her scholarship will be suspended or cancelled.

Article 30 Each college is expected to reinforce the guide and discipline of international students. At the start of each month, the Students' Affairs Office in each college will publish detailed information of the previous month's absence as well as file relevant proof away for future consultation.

CHAPTER 5 TRANSFER OF PROGRAM/UNIVERSITY

Article 31 Procedure for transfer of BA/MA program:

(1) An international undergraduate student is allowed to transfer into another BA program (major) during his/her academic study in ZJNU. The application time for such transfer is within the first 2 weeks after the beginning of the 2nd or 4th semester of the applicant's academic program.

An international graduate student is allowed to transfer into another MA program that is in the same first level discipline as his/her original one. The application time for such transfer is within the first 2 weeks after the beginning of the 2nd semester of the applicant's academic program.

(2) For an international BA candidate, he/she has to obtain the consent from his/her present college as well as the intended college before his/her application can be submitted to the Undergraduate Teaching Department and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for approval.

For an international MA candidate, before his/her application for transfer can be submitted to the Graduate School and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for approval, he/she has to obtain, one by one, the consent from his/her present supervisor (or the head in charge of his/her present MA program), the dean in charge of his/her present program, his/her intended supervisor (or the head of the intended MA program), the dean in charge of his/her intended college.

(3) An international student is allowed to make only one transfer after his/her student status has been confirmed.

(4) If the scholarship for an international student on Chinese Government Scholarship has to be extended because of his/her transfer, the student in question is required to submit a written consent from his/her embassy in China. If the transfer has not been approved by China Scholarship Council, he/she has to pay the tuition and living expenses incurred by the extension.

Article 32 After the Undergraduate Teaching Department (or the Graduate School) has confirmed the transfer of an international BA (or MA) candidate, the colleges involved are required to go through a handover procedure and report the new arrangement to the Undergraduate Teaching Department (or the Graduate School). The latter will inform related colleges/departments/offices about his/her transfer. The Center for Course Selection and the clerk in charge of international students' affairs in the transferred college will be responsible for his/her change of courses.

Article 33 Transfer of BA major/MA program is not allowed under any one of the following circumstances:

(1) The student in question has been disciplined because of breach of university regulations.

(2) The student in question has been transferred from another major.

(3) The student status of the student in question has been suspended.

(4) The student in question cannot provide justifiable excuses.

Article 34 Transfer of university is not allowed under any one of the following circumstances:

(1) The student in question has been in the present university less than a semester.

(2) The student in question is to be expelled.

(3) The student in question cannot provide justifiable excuses

Article 35 Procedure for transfer of university:

(1) The student in question files a written application.

(2) For an international BA candidate, he/she has to obtain the consent from his/her present college before his/her application can be submitted to the Undergraduate Teaching Department and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for approval. For an international MA candidate, he/she has to obtain the consent both from his/her supervisor (or the head of his/her present MA program) and the dean in charge of his/her present MA program before his/her application can be submitted to the Graduate School and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for approval.

(3) For an international student on Chinese Government Scholarship, he/she is required to submit a written consent from his/her intended university and one from his/her embassy in China (or the institution that has sponsored him/her).

CHAPTER 6 SUSPENSION, RESUMPTION, ACADEMIC WARNING AND STUDENT STATUS CANCELLATION

Article 36 Generally international students are required to finish their academic study in a continuous sequence. If one is well justified to interrupt his/her study, he/she is required to file a written application for a suspension, which usually is a single semester. If he/she cannot resume his/her study after the suspension, he/she is allowed to apply for another. However, one's total suspension time should not exceed 2 years. An international student's total stay on ZJNU campus is not allowed to exceed the prescribed length of his/her program.

Suspension due to illness will start from the date specified on the medical proof while suspension due to compassionate leave will start from the day on which the leave has been approved by the Undergraduate Teaching Department (or the Graduate School) and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation.

Article 37 Under any one of the following circumstances an international student's suspension will be approved:

(1) There is an emergency.

(2) The student in question has to go home to fulfill some obligations such as military service of his/her home country. In such cases valid proof is required for the confirmation on the part of the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation.

(3) An international BA candidate has been diagnosed with a disease that entails a period of hospitalization or rest (with valid medical proof) that will exceed 1/3 of the semester specified on the university calendar; or an international BA candidate has made excusable absences that have accounted for 1/3 of the semester specified on the university calendar; or an international MA candidate has been diagnosed with a infectious disease that entails a period of treatment or rest that will exceed 3 weeks and above; or an international MA candidate has to request a sick leave for the whole semester; or an international MA candidate's accumulated compassionate leave has accounted for over 1 month.

(4) A female international student is in pregnancy.

(5) An international student has been deemed by the university authority necessary for a suspension.

Article 38 Procedure for suspension application:

The international student in question files a written application for suspension to his/her college (with necessary proof if under the second or third circumstance specified by Article 39) to obtain its consent before the application goes to the Undergraduate Teaching Department (or the Graduate School) and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for approval.

If an international student on Chinese Government Scholarship, after his/her application has been approved both by ZJNU's Department for International Exchange and Cooperation and China Scholarship Council, has to go home for medical treatment, his/her suspension should not exceed 1 year. His /Her scholarship will be suspended but not cancelled during the period of suspension and resumed after his/her return to campus. Generally, China Scholarship Council will not approve suspension due to compassionate leave. If a scholarship student has to ask for suspension due to compassionate leave, he/she is advised to give up his/her scholarship and to re-apply for it before his/her return to campus.

Other types of scholarship will be automatically stopped from the day the suspension has been approved.

Article 39 An international student whose application for suspension has been approved is required, within 15 days from the approval, to curtail his/her visa (or permission of stay in China), complete necessary formalities, and leave China for his/her home country as soon as possible. All the travel expenses will be on him/herself. ZJNU will hold no liability for the student's security during his/her suspension. The credit(s) earned during the suspension will not be accepted by ZJNU. When a self-financed student takes a suspension during a semester, his/her tuition for this semester will not be refunded. The tuition for the next semester will be valid when he/she resumes study in a new semester.

Article 40 An international student will not enjoy the student status when he/she is on a suspension. If he/she intends to apply for the admission into another university during his/her suspension, he/she has to go through necessary formalities to cancel his/her student status in ZJNU.

Article 41 Regulations on and procedure for resumption:

The student in question is required to file an application for resumption with relevant certificates and proof. When his/her application has been approved, he/she is required to go through appropriate formalities:

(1) A self-financed student who has suspended his/her study because of illness is required to submit valid medical statements concerning his/her recovery and physical condition for study. The university will entrust a hospital with verifying his/her recovery and physical condition for study. The student in question can resume his/her study after he/she has obtained the consent from his/her college and the approval from the Undergraduate Department (or the Graduate School) and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation. A scholarship student who has suspended his/her study because of illness is required, before his/her application for resumption can be considered, to obtain the consent from the institute that has offered the scholarship.

(2) An international student who has suspended his/her study due to reasons other than illness should apply to his/her college before a new semester. He /She has to obtain the consent from the college before the application can be submitted to the Undergraduate Teaching Department (or the Graduate School) and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for approval.

Article 42 Each semester an international BA candidate is expected to check his/her academic credits before the start of course selection. His /Her college will give an assessment of his/her academic credits after all the make-up examinations end. The college will issue a Notice of Admonition against Possible Cancellation of Student Status to those who have failed to obtain 1/2 and above of required academic credits of the present semester (except those who have applied successfully for a deferment). Each semester the college will issue the note once. The college will publish a list of the international students who will receive such notice 2 weeks after the end of make-up examinations. The notice will be delivered to the intended students and reported to the Undergraduate Teaching Department and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for record.

Each international MA candidate is expected to check his/her academic credits. Each semester, his/her college will assess his/her academic achievements, issue once the Note of Cautionary Warning against the cancelation of student status, report the list of international MA candidates who will receive such note to the Graduate School and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for record, and inform every intended international MA candidate of its decision.

Article 43 Under any one of the following circumstances the student status of an international student will be cancelled:

- (1) One has applied for a withdrawal.
- (2) One's application for resumption has been rejected.
- (3) One has received 2 Notes of Cautionary Warning in succession or 3 Notes of Cautionary Warning in total.
- (4) One has failed to be graduated when the upper limit of academic years is reached, regardless of his/her excuses (suspension, extension, etc.).
- (5) One has failed to complete required procedures for resumption or extension within 2 weeks after the end of his/her suspension.
- (6) One's recovery has not been verified by the hospital entrusted by ZJNU and his/her application for resumption has thus been rejected by ZJNU.
- (7) One has been diagnosed with mental illness, epilepsy, etc. by the hospital entrusted by ZJNU; or one has been disabled, which has rendered him/her incapable of academic study.
- (8) One has contracted an infectious illness that has rendered him/her incapable of living in China.
- (9) One has failed to attend required activities for 2 weeks in succession without applying for leave or obtaining the required approval of his/her leave.
- (10) One's unexcused absences have accounted for 1/3 and above of the total periods of a semester.
- (11) One has failed to pay required fees or tuition before a prescribed deadline.
- (12) One has maliciously made remarks against China or the Chinese people.

(13) One has violated Chinese law and been given a sentence of, or harsher than, detention by China's law enforcement agencies.

(14) One has grossly violated school regulations or discipline of ZJNU.

(15) One has failed to be registered within 2 weeks after the prescribed date without justifiable reasons.

Article 44 Procedure for canceling student status:

An international student's application for withdrawal will first go to the dean of his/her college for examination and comment and then to the Undergraduate Teaching Department (or the Graduate School) and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for approval.

The cancellation of the status of an international student will be initiated by his/her college. It then goes to the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for verification. Finally, it goes to the university president's meeting for decision. This practice does not apply to those who have applied for withdrawal or failed to be registered on time.

The Notification of Student Status Cancellation will be delivered to the intended student by his/her college. If the intended student refuses to sign the notification, it will be delivered in an indwelling manner. If the intended student has left ZJNU, it will be delivered via post. If the intended student is unreachable, it will be delivered via publication on the university's website or in some news media.

If the intended student has failed to go through required formalities within 1 week after the issue of the notification, the university will report his/her cancellation to the Exit and Entry Administration Department of local police.

Article 45 An international student whose student status has been cancelled should complete the necessary formalities for visa cancellation (leaving China within a prescribed time limit) and leave ZJNU before a prescribed deadline. If he/she has been disabled due to mental illness, physical injury, or other serious disease, his/her parent or guardian will be responsible for the completion of necessary formalities and escort him/her home.

Article 46 For an international student whose student status has been cancelled by ZJNU due to violation of school regulations or Chinese law, his/her tuition will not be refunded.

Article 47 If the student status of a scholarship student has been cancelled, the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation will report this to some authorities.

From the day of cancellation, he/she will be disqualified for the scholarship, and his/her scholarship will be stopped. He /She has to pay for his/her trip home with his/her own money.

Article 48 An international student will not be qualified for the application for resumption if he/she has been expelled by ZJNU due to violation of Chinese law or university regulations; or if his/her student status was cancelled due to an illness that has not been cured yet.

Article 49 If an international student intends to challenge the cancellation, he/she can make complaint according to the Regulations on Students' Complaints of ZJNU.

CHAPTER 7 GRADUATION, DEFERMENT, EXTENSION AND TYPES OF CERTIFICATES

Article 50 When an international student with proper student status has successfully completed all the required courses and academic procedures as specified in the Curriculum Plan, obtained all the required credits, and finished his/her graduation thesis/design, he/she will graduate and be awarded a graduation diploma. If a degree candidate has met all the requirements specified in related regulations, he/she will be awarded a due degree.

Article 51 If an international student has met, before schedule, all the academic requirements for graduation, he/she can file, a semester ahead of his/her scheduled graduation, a written application to his/her college. If the application has successfully been verified by his/her college, approved by the Undergraduate Teaching Department (or the Graduate School), and registered by the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation, he/she is allowed to be graduated ahead of schedule.

Article 52 If an international student anticipates that he/she is unable to meet all academic requirements when the program ends, he/she can file to his/her college, 1 month before the scheduled graduation date, an application for a deferment, which will go to his/her college for verification, to the Undergraduate Teaching Department (or the Graduate School) and the Department for International Exchange and Cooperation for approval. Otherwise, the student in question will be granted a Certificate of Credits. He /She has also to pay the tuition covering his/her deferment as specified by related regulations issued by ZJNU.

Article 53 If an international BA candidate, within the specified length of his/her program, has only 7 credits (or less than 7 credits) short of required academic credits for graduation, he/she can apply for a Certificate of Program-Completion and leave the university. If he/she has succeeded in obtaining the rest required credits within 1 year after his/her disengagement from the university, he/she can apply for a Certificate of Graduation instead. The conferment of BA degree will be regulated by Detailed Regulations on the Conferment of Bachelor's Degree in Zhejiang Normal University.

An international MA candidate who has earned all the required credits and gone through all the required academic procedures but has failed to pass the oral defense of his/her thesis, he/she is allowed to end his/her study and be granted a Certificate of Program-Completion.

An international MA candidate who has been granted a Certificate of Program-Completion is allowed to, within 1 year after the oral defense and with the consent of his/her college, apply for another oral defense. If he/she has successfully passed the second oral defense, his/her course-completion certificate will be replaced with a Certification of Graduation. His /Her graduation date will be the day when the Certification of Graduation is conferred. The conferment of Master's degree or Doctor's degree will be regulated by Detailed Regulations on the Conferment of Master's and Doctor's Degrees in Zhejiang Normal University.

Article 54 If an international BA candidate, within the prescribed length of his/her program, has 8 (or more than 8) credits short of required academic credits for graduation and has been disengaged from the university, he/she will be given a Certificate of Credits.

If an international MA candidate has studied for 1 year and above but failed to finish all the required courses or procedures specified in the Curriculum Plan, he/she will be granted a Certificate of Credits. If an international MA candidate has studied in ZJNU for less than 1 year, he/she will be granted a Proof of Schooling. If an international MA candidate student has voluntarily withdrawn, he/she will be granted no certificate or proof. If an international MA candidate has been expelled by ZJNU, he/she will be granted a Proof of Schooling.

Article 55 No certificate or diploma or proof will be granted to international students without proper student status.

Article 56 If a Chinese Government Scholarship holder intends to extend his/her study, and with good reasons, he/she is required to file an application, before the beginning of an academic year, to the department of his/her government that has dispatched him/her or the Chinese embassy (or consulate) that has recommended him/her for the scholarship. With the permission from the Chinese embassy (or consulate) or from the student's native agency in China, the student in question can go through the formalities for extension application.

However, if the student's application for extension has been rejected while he/she really needs it, he/she has to pay the tuition and accommodation covering the extended study.

Article 57 If an international student has made some improper actions in his/her academic study, such as cheating on an examination, plagiarism, etc., any certificate he/she has obtained will be withdrawn. If the certificate has been registered, the university will report it to the relevant educational administration for a withdrawal.

Article 58 No diploma/certificate can be reissued even if one has been lost or damaged. However, upon the request of its holder, after the loss or damage has been verified, the university can give its holder a declaration to testify it. The declaration enjoys the same validity as the original certificate.

Article 59 Each college will follow the specifications included in the Curriculum Plan for international students and coordinate with the Undergraduate Teaching Department or the Graduate School to verify, approve and grant appropriate types of certificate (i.e. Certificate of Graduation, Certificate of Program-Completion, Certificate of Course-Completion, Certificate of Credits, and Proof of Schooling).

Article 60 The Undergraduate Teaching Department (or the Graduate School) is responsible for the making and issuing of certificates for international students. An international student who has completed his/her academic study should go through necessary formalities within a prescribed period of time to obtain the Disengagement Slip. With the slip he/she can claim his/her due certificates at his/her college. The Department for International Exchange and Cooperation will report the detailed information concerning newly graduated international students to the Ministry of Education and Zhejiang Provincial Department of Education.

Article 61 International students' academic records and archives will be handled in the same manner as those of the domestic students.

CHAPTER 8 SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS

Article 62 The present regulations will take effect on September 1st, 2017 and supersede those specified in other documents that are not in accordance with the present regulations.

Article 63 The Department for International Exchange and Cooperation is responsible for the explanation of the present regulations.

An MA candidate is required, within the prescribed program length, to complete and pass all the subjects, compulsory procedures, and practical tasks, and to obtain all the required credits specified in the Curriculum Plan for MA Candidates in his/her discipline.

A student who intends to apply for a Master's degree as an equivalent of graduate student (hereafter referred to as graduate equivalent) is required, within 4 years after his/her eligibility for graduate study has been verified, to complete and pass all the subjects and the qualification test conducted by the state government, and to obtain all the required credits specified in the Curriculum Plan for MA Candidates in his/her discipline.

7.2 Requirements for Research

During the academic study for a Master's degree, a candidate is required to have finished some research corresponding to the degree's academic qualifications.

7.2.1 A full-time, research-oriented MA candidate is required to publish at least 1 research work related to his/her discipline (including research paper, monograph, translation work, patent, etc. but excluding textbook), as the first/sole author (or as the second author if his/her supervisor is the first author), or to expect the publication of the above-mentioned work in a Science or Engineering journal or in a Class-II Humanities journal (or one of higher rank) identified by the ZJNU's Ranking of Journals in Humanities.

A collaborated, high-level research paper that has been published in a Humanities journal that has been identified by ZJNU's Ranking of Journals in Humanities as an Authoritative journal or a Science/Engineering journal that has been included in SCI's Top Section I or Top Section II can attribute its authorship to at most 2 MA candidates as co-authors.

If a full-time, research-type MA candidate has failed to publish or expect the publication of any research work during his/her academic study, his/her dissertation is required to score 80 and above on the doubly anonymous assessment.

7.2.2 A practice-oriented MA candidate can apply for MA degree when he/she has met any one of the following requirements:

- a. The candidate has published, as the first/sole author, a research work (such as research paper, monograph, translation work, patent, etc.), with Zhejiang Normal University claimed its first authorship.
- b. The candidate has won a department/bureau-level (or a higher level) teaching or research award, as the first/sole winner (or the second winner if his/her supervisor is the first winner).
- c. The candidate has submitted an internship (research) report (or a practical case, a design scheme, a product development scheme, a literary work, a work of art) which has been verified and approved by his/her MA program.

7.2.3 In terms of research requirements, graduate equivalents will be handled in the same way as full-time, research-oriented MA candidates.

7.3 Requirements for Foreign Language Proficiency

An MA candidate is required to pass the foreign language course as specified in his/her Curriculum Plan, to read with ease the literature of his/her discipline written in the foreign language, and to write the abstract of his/her thesis paper with the foreign language.

Article 8 All the candidates' research works should attribute the first authorship to Zhejiang Normal University. If there are several co-authors, only the first one will be accepted as its author.

Article 9 After the completion of all the required courses and the dissertation, an MA candidate can apply for an MA degree and go through the verification formalities. The verification, based on the Curriculum Plan, will be handled by the candidate's college (or the educational center for practice-oriented MA candidates) in accordance with related regulations of ZJNU. It will make an overall examination of the applicant's ideology, research style, academic performance, and professional competence.

CHAPTER 4 BASIC REQUIREMENTS FOR DISSERTATION

Article 10 The dissertation should be written solely by the applicant under the direction of his/her supervisor and in accordance with Specifications for the Format of MA/PhD Dissertation in Zhejiang Normal University.

Article 11 A PhD dissertation should demonstrate the applicant's great learning and erudition in basic theories, systematic and profound knowledge in related research fields, and some creative contributions to the research subject. The dissertation should be of great theoretical or practical significance. Its reference and data should be comprehensive and authentic. Its argumentation should be rigorous and calculation accurate. The language should be fluent and idiomatic, with its discourse logically organized.

The dissertation is expected to show that the applicant is capable of independent research or undertaking a professional skilled job, as well as to qualify the applicant for a doctoral degree.

The writing of a PhD dissertation is expected to take at least 2 years.

Article 12 The subject of an MA dissertation should be of some theoretical or practical significance. Its reference and data should be authentic. Its argumentation should be rigorous and calculation accurate. The language should be fluent and idiomatic, with its discourse lucidly organized. Its conclusion should contribute something new to the research.

The dissertation is expected to show that the applicant is capable of research or doing a professional skilled job, as well as to qualify the applicant for a Master's degree.

The writing of an MA dissertation is expected to take at least 1 year.

Article 13 The subject of a practice-oriented MA dissertation should be developed from social practice or problems in some real working experience. It should be of practical significance and definite applicability. The dissertation should be based on the following: specialized study, survey report, case study, teaching design, administrative scheme, project plan, literary works, works of art (including illustration of an art work), etc. Its focus should be on the analysis of a problem and on the strategy of and approaches to its solution.

Article 14 In-Progress Inspection of Dissertation and Final Draft Check

After the proposal of a dissertation has been accepted, there will be an in-progress inspection to see how the dissertation has advanced. The final draft will go to the supervisor for an overall check, approval, and comments before it is submitted to the program board for formal inspection.

CHAPTER 5 APPLICATION FOR ORAL DEFENSE

Article 15 When a PhD/MA candidate applies for the oral defense of his/her dissertation, he/she should fill in the Application Form for Master's/Doctor's Degree in Zhejiang Normal University and submit it, together with the final draft of his/her dissertation, to his/her supervisor for examination. The latter is expected to inspect it carefully and to give factual comments on it. If the supervisor thinks that the dissertation has met the requirements specified in the Curriculum Plan and that its research has reached the standards specified by ZJNU, he can sign his decision and submit it, together with the candidate's Application Form for Master's/Doctor's Degree in Zhejiang Normal University, to the program board and his/her college.

Article 16 The candidate's program board and college will, following some specified procedures, make an overall assessment of his/her performance on academic study, examination scores, and dissertation rank. They should decide whether the candidate has met all the requirements for a doctoral (or master's) degree before they can give their approval or disapproval for his/her application.

For a PhD candidate, there will be a trial defense. Only when he/she has passed the trial defense can he/she file the application for the assessment and oral defense for his/her dissertation.

Article 17 The trial defense for a PhD dissertation refers to the inspection conducted by some experts/scholars on the request of the candidate's college. The experts/scholars will pick out the weak points in the dissertation and offer suggestions for its improvement. They are responsible for the initialization of a standard PhD dissertation.

The PhD candidate's college will request 3 experts/scholars, both in and outside ZJNU, to form a board for the trial defense and appoint its head and secretary. The experts/scholars are expected to have qualified themselves as PhD supervisors and enjoyed the academic title of Full Professor (or its equivalent) in discipline(s) closely related to the research field of the dissertation. An expert/scholar who has been on the board for in-progress inspection of a dissertation can be included on the board for its trial defense but the candidate's supervisor is not allowed to be included on the trial defense board.

The board for trial defense will hear the candidate's presentation about the dissertation's main points and originality; inspect whether the research has met the requirements for PhD degree, whether the dissertation has deviated from the academic norm, whether its findings have been appropriately elaborated, and whether its originality has been properly identified; point out its problems and weaknesses; offer suggestions for its improvement; and reach a conclusion. If the candidate has passed the trial defense, he/she is required, according to the suggestions offered by the trial defense board, to revise and improve his/her dissertation for at least 2 weeks. When the revised version of the dissertation has been inspected and approved by his/her supervisor, the candidate can apply for the assessment and oral defense of his/her dissertation.

If the candidate has failed to pass the trial defense, he/she is required to, according to the suggestions offered by the trial defense board, revise his/her dissertation for at least 3 months before he/she can apply for another trial defense.

Article 18 A college-level academic degree committee is responsible for the verification of a candidate's academic performance, test scores, credits, compulsory procedures, dissertation, and publications. It will give a conclusion about the verification.

CHAPTER 6 ASSESSMENT OF DISSERTATION

Article 19 A dissertation should pass the formal inspection and the check on indecent academic conduct (a PhD dissertation has also to pass the trial defense) before it can be submitted for assessment. A candidate's supervisor is not allowed to be its assessor.

Article 20 A dissertation will be assessed in a doubly-anonymous manner, i.e., the personal information of a candidate and his/her supervisor will not be revealed to the assessors and the personal information of the assessors will not be revealed to the candidate and his/her supervisor, which is intended to secure a fair, objective assessment of the dissertation.

Article 21 A PhD dissertation needs at least 5 assessors who should be full professors (or their equivalents) from related disciplines that are covered by the dissertation. Among the 5 assessors, at least 3 should be from outside ZJNU and at least 3 should be PhD supervisors.

Article 22 An MA dissertation needs at least 3 assessors who should be associate professors (or their equivalents) or full professors (or their equivalents) from disciplines that are covered by the dissertation. Among the 3 assessors, at least 1 should be an MA supervisor and at least 1 should be from outside ZJNU (for a practice-oriented MA dissertation, this outside assessor should be an expert much experienced in the field covered by the dissertation).

Article 23 A dissertation assessor is expected to adopt a fair, responsible attitude towards the assessment and to give detailed comments on the dissertation according to the components and criteria specified in the Dissertation Assessment Sheet so as to offer substantial reference for the oral defense board and the academic degree committee.

The assessors' decisions are ranked in 4 grades:

- A. Approval for Oral Defense (Total ≥ 85)
- B. Oral Defense after Revision ($70 \leq \text{Total} < 85$)
- C. Reassessment after Revision ($60 \leq \text{Total} < 70$)
- D. Disapproval for Oral Defense (Total < 60)

Article 24 The Procedure for Implementing Assessor's Decision on PhD Dissertation If all the decisions are A, the candidate is allowed to directly enter the procedure of oral defense.

If all the decisions are either A or B, the candidate is required to revise and improve his/her dissertation. He /She is allowed to enter the procedure of oral defense after his/her revised version has been approved by his/her supervisor and the head of his/her program.

If there is only one C or two Cs while other decisions are either A or B, the candidate is required to make a very careful revision of his/her dissertation, following the suggestions offered by the assessors. After the revised dissertation has been approved by his/her supervisor and the program board, he/she can re-submit it to the assessors who gave the Cs for reassessment. If all the assessors approve the revised version, the candidate is allowed to enter the procedure of oral defense; if there is still a C, the application for oral defense will be terminated.

If there is one D or three Cs while other decisions are either A or B, the candidate is required to make an overall revision of his/her dissertation for at least 6 months. After the revised dissertation has been approved by his/her supervisor and the program board, re-submit it to the assessors who gave the D or Cs for reassessment. If all the assessors approve the revised version, the candidate is allowed to enter the procedure of oral defense; if there is still a D or C, the application for oral defense will be terminated.

The application for oral defense will be terminated under any one of the following circumstances:

- a. There are two Ds.
- b. There is one D and two or more Cs
- c. There are three or more Cs.

When the application for oral defense is terminated, the candidate is required to make a substantial revision of his/her dissertation, following the suggestions offered by the assessors. He /She is allowed to re-submit the revised version after 6 to 12 months for another assessment. If there is one D or at least two Cs on the reassessment, the candidate will be deprived of his/her eligibility for the oral defense and not be allowed to make another application.

Article 25 The Procedure for Implementing Assessor's Decision on MA Dissertation If all the decisions are A, the candidate is allowed to directly enter the procedure of oral defense.

If all the decisions are either A or B, the candidate is required to revise and improve his/her dissertation. He /She is allowed to enter the procedure of oral defense after his/her revised version has been approved by his/her supervisor and the head of his/her program.

If there is only one C while other decisions are either A or B, the candidate is required to make a very careful revision of his/her dissertation, following the suggestions offered by the assessors. After the revised dissertation has been approved by his/her supervisor and the program board, he/she can re-submit it to the assessors for reassessment. If the assessor approves the revised version, the candidate is allowed to enter the procedure of oral defense; if the assessor disapproves the revised version, the application for oral defense will be terminated.

If there is only one D while other decisions are either A or B, the candidate is required to make an overall revision of his/her dissertation for at least 6 months. After the revised dissertation has been approved by his/her supervisor and college, re-submit it to the assessor who gave the D for reassessment. If the assessor approves the revised version, the candidate is allowed to enter the procedure of oral defense; if the assessor disapproves the revision, the application for oral defense will be terminated.

If 2 of the decisions are either C or D, the application for oral defense will be terminated.

When the application for oral defense is terminated, the candidate is required to make a substantial revision of his/her dissertation, following the suggestions offered by the assessors. He /She is allowed to re-submit the revised version after 6 to 12 months for another assessment. If there is one D or C on the reassessment, the candidate will be deprived of his/her eligibility for the oral defense and not be allowed to make another application.

Article 26 A candidate is allowed to file one and only application for the withdrawal of a certain assessor in the doubly anonymous assessment.

Article 27 If there are definite suggestions for revision offered by assessors, the candidate is required to follow them to make revision and to illustrate how his/her revision has been made; if the candidate refuses to make revision, he/she is expected to provide ample justification for his/her refusal with detailed explanations. The explanations should be signed by the candidate and his/her supervisor and submitted to the oral defense board for inspection.

Article 28 If a candidate intends to challenge an assessor's decision when there are two As and one C or two As and one D for an MA dissertation or when there are three or more As and only one C or D for a PhD dissertation, he/she can file an application for a Renewed Assessment after he/she has obtained the approval from his/her supervisor and program board. The decision on the Renewed Assessment will be accepted as the final decision.

If a candidate intends to raise objection to an assessor's decision and to apply for the replacement of this assessor, he/she is expected to provide ample justification for the replacement, fill in the Application Form for Renewed Assessment of Dissertation, obtain the approval from his/her supervisor and college, and submit it to the Graduate School. The latter will request 3 experts/scholars in related disciplines to inspect the original version of the dissertation, the assessor's decision, and the replacement justification. The 3 experts/scholars are responsible for a conclusion which will determine whether the resubmission of the dissertation and the replacement of assessor are acceptable. Only when there is a unanimous approval from the 3 experts/scholars will the replacement of assessor be acceptable.

Article 29 A college's secretary for graduate students (or the clerk in charge of the management of graduate students) alone is responsible for the mailing and collection of dissertation assessment sheets. The candidate and his/her supervisor are not allowed to be involved in this process. The name of any assessor should not be revealed to the candidate and his/her supervisor. Dissertation assessment sheets, assessment decisions, and other related material should be officially sealed before handling.

Article 30 A confidential dissertation will be handled in accordance with ZJNU's regulations on confidential dissertations.

Article 31 If someone denounces with proof or an assessor points out that the writer of the dissertation has breached code of academic conduct by committing plagiarism and forgery in the writing of the dissertation, the Graduate School will request some experts/scholars to look into the case. Once the breach has been nailed down, the candidate's eligibility for oral defense will be cancelled and his/her application will be invalidated.

CHAPTER 7 ORAL DEFENSE OF DISSERTATION

Article 32 When a dissertation has passed the assessment, its writer is allowed to enter the procedure of oral defense.

Article 33 The oral defense board for a PhD dissertation is composed of 5 to 7 experts/scholars, each of whom should enjoy the academic title of full professor (or its equivalent) and should usually be a PhD supervisor. There should be at least 2 experts/scholars in related disciplines from outside ZJNU (excluding experts/scholars from the candidate's company/organization/institute). The board should be chaired by a PhD supervisor. The candidate's supervisor is not allowed to be included on the oral defense board, but he/she is allowed to be present at the oral defense.

Article 34 The oral defense board for an MA dissertation is composed of 5 experts/scholars from related disciplines, each of whom should enjoy the academic title of associate professor (or its equivalent or an academic title of higher rank) and should usually be an MA supervisor. There should be at least 1 expert/scholar in related disciplines from outside ZJNU (excluding experts/scholars from the candidate's company/organization/institute). The board should be chaired by an MA supervisor who enjoys the academic title of full professor (or its equivalent). The oral defense board for a dissertation written by a practice-oriented MA candidate (or a vocational teaching MA candidate, or a college teaching MA candidate, or a graduate equivalent MA candidate) should include at least 1 expert/scholar from outside ZJNU who is expected to be much experienced in the field covered by the dissertation and enjoys the academic title of associate professor (or its equivalent or an academic title of higher rank). The candidate's supervisor is not allowed to be included on the oral defense board, but he/she is allowed to be present at the oral defense.

Article 35 The oral defense board will make an overall assessment of the rank of the dissertation and the candidate's performance on the oral defense before a secret voting. If more than two thirds of the members on the board have voted yes, it will be deemed a pass. The board can then make a decision to recommend the candidate for the intended degree. The decision will take effect after it has been signed by the chairperson of the board.

Article 36 There is one secretary on the oral defense board who will be present throughout the defense to arrange its details and to take notes of questioning and answering as well as decision making. The secretary present at the oral defense of an MA dissertation is expected to be a holder of master's degree or a person enjoying a middle academic title (or its equivalent or an academic title of higher rank). The secretary present at the oral defense of a PhD dissertation is expected to be a holder of doctor's degree or a person enjoying the academic title of associate professor (or its equivalent or an academic title of higher rank).

Article 37 Members on an oral defense board will be recommended by a related discipline and verified by the college-level academic degree committee. The latter will submit the list to the Graduate School for approval.

Dissertations should be delivered, at least 7 days ahead of the oral defense, to all the members on the oral defense board, who are expected to make a careful examination of it before the oral defense, to raise questions during the oral defense, and to cast vote at the end of the oral defense. If a member is unable to be present at the oral defense, he/she is not allowed to authorize another person to cast the vote or to vote via correspondence.

Article 38 Usually the oral defense should be held openly. If there is a confidential dissertation involved, the oral defense will be handled in accordance with ZJNU's related regulations on confidential dissertations.

The candidate's college is required to arrange the schedule at least 7 days ahead of the oral defense and submit it to the Graduate School for approval and publicity. Meanwhile, the college should inform, 1 week before the oral defense, the candidate of the arrangement and publish it by means of internet, bulletin, etc.

Article 39 The following is the procedure of oral defense:

(1) The chairperson of the oral defense board announces the opening of the oral defense, introduces members on the board, and chairs the oral defense throughout.

(2) The supervisor introduces the names of the candidate and his/her own, the topic of the dissertation, the candidate's performance on academic study, scores on examinations, research achievements, involvement in academic activities, writing process of the dissertation, and his/her comments on the dissertation.

(3) The candidate gives his/her presentation about the dissertation's research subject, research design, findings, originality, etc. An MA candidate's presentation should last at least 15 minutes while a PhD candidate's presentation should last at least 30 minutes.

(4) Members on the oral defense board raise questions and the candidate answers them. This session for an MA candidate should last at least 15 minutes while for a PhD candidate 30 minutes.

(5) During the recess, members on the oral defense will hold a cabinet meeting to weigh the rank of the dissertation and the candidate's performance on the oral defense, to vote on whether the dissertation will be approved and whether the candidate can be recommended for the intended degree, and to reach a board decision. The voting should be carried out on an anonymous basis. If more than two thirds of the members on the board have voted yes, it will be deemed a pass. Otherwise, it will be deemed a failure. The decision will take effect after it has been signed by the chairperson of the board.

(6) The oral defense is resumed. The chairperson announces the voting result and reads the board decision.

(7) The chairperson announces the end of the oral defense.

Article 40 After the oral defense, a candidate who has passed the oral defense is required to make necessary revision according to the questions and suggestion offered by the members on the oral defense board and submit the revised version, together with an explanation about the revision, to the oral defense secretary. The latter will submit all the related documents to the college's academic degree committee for verification.

Article 41 If an MA candidate has failed on the oral defense, he/she is allowed, with the approval from the oral defense board and within 6 to 12 months after the oral defense, to file an application for a second oral defense for the revised dissertation. If a PhD candidate has failed on the oral defense, he/she is allowed, with the approval from the oral defense board within 6 months after the oral defense (but before the prescribed end of the PhD program), to file an application for a second oral defense for the revised dissertation. Application for the second oral defense beyond the prescribed deadline will not be accepted. If the candidate has failed on the second oral defense, his/her eligibility for the degree application will be terminated.

Article 42 If a PhD candidate has not yet obtained MA degree before and if the oral defense board deems that although the dissertation has not reached the standard of PhD dissertation but has reached that of MA dissertation, with the permission from the candidate him/herself, the board can make a decision to recommend the candidate for MA degree instead. The decision will take effect after it is approved by the college-level academic degree committee and verified by the university-level academic degree committee.

CHAPTER 8 DEGREE CONFERMENT

Article 43 The college-level academic degree committee should make an overall examination of the candidate according to the requirements for degree conferment before it decides whether to confer the intended degree on the candidate. If the college-level academic degree committee decides to reject the oral defense board's recommendation, it should give a definite written explanation of the reasons for the rejection. The committee's decision and voting results will be entered, by the college's secretary for graduate students, in proper columns on the candidate's application form which will be signed by the chairperson of the committee and submitted to the university-level academic degree committee.

Article 44 The Graduate School will announce who will be granted an MA degree or a PhD degree. 5 days after the announcement, if there is no objection to an MA candidate receiving the degree, the certificate of Master's degree will be conferred on him/her. 3 months after the announcement, if there is no objection to a PhD candidate receiving the degree, the certificate of Doctor's degree will be conferred on him/her. The day when the university-level academic degree committee has held the meeting to make the final decision will be deemed as the date of conferment.

Article 45 If a candidate has passed the oral defense and met the requirements for graduation but has not published the required research work, he/she can graduate but cannot be conferred the intended degree. He /She will not be included on the list for degree conferment at the meeting of the university-level academic degree committee. If he/she has met the requirement for research work within 1 year after the graduation, he/she can apply for the degree conferment. Application beyond the time limit will not be considered.

Article 46 If any one of the following circumstances occurs, a candidate will not be granted the intended degree:

- (1) A candidate has failed on the oral defense.
- (2) A candidate is still under the force of the discipline of Probation (or a harsher one).
- (3) A candidate has committed plagiarism or forgery in his/her dissertation or publications.
- (4) A candidate has failed to meet related specifications and requirements in the present regulations.

Article 47 When a candidate still under the force of a discipline has met the requirements for graduation and satisfied all the items specified in Chapter 3, he/she is allowed to apply for a degree if he/she can accomplish any one of the following:

(1) An MA candidate has published, as the first author, a research paper covering discipline(s) related to his/her program in a Class-I journal (or one of higher rank), or holds an invention patent authorized by the state, or has bred a new variety of animal/plant that has entered the national catalogue. A PhD candidate has published, as the first author, 3 research papers covering discipline(s) related to his/her program in Class-I journals (or journals of higher rank). An invention patent authorized by the state or a new variety of animal/plant that has entered the national catalogue will be deemed as an equivalent of such a paper.

(2) An MA candidate is one of the major contributors to project /research that has won one of the state's three major awards for science and technology (among the first 6 winners of an award) or that has won a province/ministry's second (or higher) prize (among the first 3 winners of the first prize or one of the first 2 winners of the second prize). A PhD candidate is one of the major contributors to project /research that has won one of the state's three major awards for science and technology (among the first 4 winners of an award) or that has won a province/ministry's second (or higher) prize (as the first winner or one of the first 2 winners of the first prize).

(5) An MA candidate has been admitted into a PhD program.

If a candidate, who is still under the force of a disciplinary action but has failed to accomplish any one of the above, has met all the requirements for graduation and the intended degree, he/she is allowed to graduate. If he/she has accomplished any one of the above within 1 year after his/her graduation, he/she is allowed to file a written application for the degree conferment. Application beyond the deadline will not be accepted.

CHAPTER 9 APPEAL AND RECONSIDERATION

Article 48 The following is the procedure for applying for reconsideration:

(1) The candidate files an application for reconsideration. If the objection is about the procedure of degree application, the candidate is allowed, within 3 days after the decision, to file a written application to the college-level academic degree committee for reconsideration. Application beyond the deadline will not be accepted.

(2) The college-level academic degree committee inspects the case. After the application has reached the college-level academic degree committee; the latter is expected to make a comprehensive and immediate investigation of the case. If it decides reconsideration unnecessary, the committee is required to inform the applicant about its decision within 7 days after the reception of the reconsideration application. If the committee decides reconsideration necessary, it should submit a written decision to the Graduate School.

(3) The Graduate School inspects the case. After the decision made by the college-level academic degree committee has reached the Graduate School, the latter is expected to make an investigation of the case. If it decides reconsideration unnecessary, the Graduate School is required to inform the applicant and the college-level academic degree committee about its decision within 7 days after the reception of the college-level academic degree committee's decision. If the Graduate School decides reconsideration necessary, it should submit the case to the university-level academic degree committee for reconsideration and decision. The decision made by the university-level academic degree committee is the ultimate decision.

CHAPTER 10 OTHER MATTERS

Article 49 A candidate is not allowed to apply to 2-degree programs for degree conferment with the same dissertation; nor can he/she, at one time, apply to 2-degree programs for degree conferment.

Article 50 If an international MA/PhD candidate or a foreign scholar involved in research in China intends to apply for a degree, the requirements for research will be specified by his/her degree program or his/her college, according to the real circumstance of the program or college, and will be submitted to the Graduate School for record. An international MA/PhD candidate whose courses are instructed in English is allowed to write his/her dissertation in English but with a detailed Chinese abstract.

Article 51 Each discipline is allowed to formulate its own requirements and standards for a degree program, based on the real situation of the discipline. But such requirements and standards should not be lower than that specified in the present regulations. After the college-level academic degree committee has verified these requirements and standards and submitted them to the Graduate School for record, they will be specified clearly in the Curriculum Plan of a degree program.

Article 52 If an academic degree committee finds that there is a wrong conferment or a breach against the present regulations (such as deception), it should make an immediate reconsideration of the conferment. Once the fact has been nailed down, it should issue a new decision to withdraw the previous conferment.

Article 53 Matters not covered by the present regulations will be handled by the university-level academic degree committee in accordance with Regulations of the People's Republic of China on Academic Degrees and Interim Measures for the Implementation of Regulations of the People's Republic of China on Academic Degrees.

The present regulations have been discussed and approved by the university-level academic committee and will apply to MA/PhD candidates to graduate in 2017. The Graduate School is responsible for the interpretation of the articles in the present regulations. If any item or article in the previous regulations does not comply with that in the present regulations, the present regulations shall prevail.

Grade 2 and above	30	15	15	12	8	20

Article 9 Assessment of moral merits

Score for moral merits=basic score 20 points + incentive points for moral merits From the end of the last assessment to the present assessment, any international students who have violated the university rules and have been given punishment of “Warning” or above will receive scores of 0 for their moral merits, and the results of their comprehensive quality assessment will be “failed”.

Article 10 Assessment of study achievements

(1) Score of study achievements for undergraduate students

1. Undergraduate freshmen

$$\text{Score of study achievements} = \frac{\text{grade point average (GPA) of the first semester}}{\text{The maximum value of GPA of international students of the same major and the same grade}} \times 30$$

2. Undergraduate sophomores and above

$$\text{Score of study achievements} = \frac{\text{GPA of previous year's spring semester} + \text{GPA of previous year's autumn semester}}{\text{The maximum value of GPA of international students of the same major and the same grade}} \times 30$$

Grade point average will be exported from the automatic calculation in the Teaching Affairs System.

During the comprehensive quality assessment period, if an international student earns fewer than half of the total credits enrolled in any given semester, or if their average GPA is below 1.0 (<1.0), their academic performance score will be recorded as 0 points, and the overall comprehensive quality assessment result will be deemed unsatisfactory.

(2) Score of academic achievements for graduate students

① Score of academic achievements = course results points + research points

The full score of course results points for freshmen is 22, and the full score of research points is 8; the full score of course results points for sophomores and above is 15 and the research points is 15. Course results points is a weighted score of the results of all the courses that a graduate student has attended and it will be obtained from the automatic calculation of the Graduate Students Information Management System.

②Calculation Equation of the score of academic achievements:

$$\text{Freshmen} = \frac{\text{score of academic achievements (SAA)}}{\text{The maximum value of SAA of international students of the same major and the same grade}} \times 22$$

$$\text{Sophomores and above} = \frac{\text{score of academic achievements (SAA)}}{\text{The maximum value of SAA of international students of the same major and the same grade}} \times 15$$

During the comprehensive quality assessment period, international students with an average GPA below 1.0 (<1.0) will have their academic performance score recorded as 0 points, and their comprehensive quality assessment result will be deemed unsatisfactory.

③Research score

The research score is divided into basic research points and bonus research points. It is calculated according to the following equation:

Research score for freshmen=basic research points (4) +bonus research points (4)

Research score for sophomores and above=basic research points (6) +bonus research points (9)

a) Basic research points

According to the training program, if the research tasks for the degree at the present stage have been completed and passed at the time of assessment, including the thesis proposal, mid-term report, and preliminary thesis defense, the basic research points will be awarded.

b) Bonus research points (BRP)

$$\text{BRP for freshmen} = \frac{\text{research score}}{\text{The maximum value of BRP of international students of the same major and the same grade}} \times 4$$

$$\text{BRP for sophomores and above} = \frac{\text{research score}}{\text{The maximum value of BRP of international students of the same major and the same grade}} \times 9$$

For the addition standard of bonus research points, see Appendix 1.

Article 11 Assessment of study/research attitude

(1) Undergraduate students

Score of study attitude=course attendance score (full mark:10) +daily attendance score (full mark:10)

① Course attendance score is calculated according to the following equation:

$$\text{Course attendance score} = \frac{\text{attendance rate of course 1} + \text{that of course 2} + \dots + \text{that of course n}}{n} \times 10$$

② Daily attendance score

$$\text{Daily attendance score} = \text{daily attendance rate} \times 10$$

(2) Graduate students

Study/research attitude score = score of tutor's evaluations (full mark: 12 points)
+ comprehensive attendance score (full mark: 8 points)

① Score of tutor full mark: 12

Tutors will give a score by evaluating the students' study initiative, participation in research, performance in team cooperation, and research capability. The full mark is 12 points. For the reference standard for evaluation, see Appendix 2.

② Comprehensive attendance score

$$\text{Comprehensive attendance score} = (\text{daily attendance rate} + \text{class attendance rate}) / 2 \times 8$$

Article 12 Assessment of participation in activities

1. Score of participation in activities (full mark: 20 points)

2. Score of participation in activities = basic points of participation in activities + bonus points of participation in activities

3. basic points of participation in activities (full mark: 8 points)

An international student who has taken part in activities including social practice, varieties of competitions, lectures, etc. twice will obtain 8 basic points.

4. bonus points of participation in activities (full mark: 12 points)

In addition to basic activities, international students who participate in other activities may receive bonus points. The standard is as follows:

Table 4 Standard of bonus points

Level	1	2	3	winning	Participation without prize
National	——	——	12	8	5

College	2	2	2	1	1

Note: ① During the period of assessment, the highest score among the items of the same type will be counted.

- ② To encourage students to actively participate in national and provincial / ministerial-level activities, international students who participate in such activities during the review period and win a national first prize, national second prize, or a provincial/ministerial first prize will receive the full score of 20 points for their activity participation.

Article 13 When international students have won medals above bronze in national competitions of innovation and business startup, except for national scholarships students, the person supported by other funds who is in charge of the program (ranking number 1) will be directly awarded scholarships of Zhejiang provincial government, or type A scholarships of Zhejiang Normal University. only if he/she owns the basic conditions to participate in the review.

Article 14 Students for advanced study supported by the national scholarships need to take part in the assessment. Concerning colleges and institutes need to do the assessment in accordance with the assessment rules of the student level in the class to which the students belong. Students for advanced study supported by other funds need not take part in the assessment.

Chapter 5 Supplementary Articles

Article 15 There need to be supporting materials for the calculation of all the scores. The scores can only be determined after they are checked by the colleges and the university.

Article 16 If there are additional requirements for annual review on the part of the senior department in charge or the institutions providing the scholarships, they should simultaneously be considered and met.

Article 17 The present regulation will be valid from the date on which it is issued. The original document (ZJNU Foreign Serial No. (2021) 13) is hereby invalidated.

Article 2 The present regulations apply to international students of ZJNU, including full-time BA/MA/PhD candidates or other full-time non-degree students or exchange program international students (hereafter referred to as international students).

Article 3 Any disciplinary action will be committed to the principle of fairness, justice, and openness; to the principle of integrating punishment with cultivation; and to the principle of protecting students' right of appeal. It is expected to give a due discipline corresponding to the type and seriousness of an offense. Any discipline will follow a legal procedure and be appropriate to an offense; and it will only be carried out when hard evidence has been collected, the legal basis has been clarified, and the type of offense has been identified.

Article 4 An offense committed by a student during his/her off-campus activities such as (graduation) internship, research, social practice, exchange, , etc. will be disciplined in accordance with the present regulations.

CHAPTER 2 DISCIPLINE TYPE AND APPLICATION

Article 5 The following 5 types of discipline (from the lightest to the harshest) will be imposed on those international students who have violated Chinese law or regulations and the university code of conduct specified in the present document, depending on the seriousness of the offense:

- (2) Harsh Admonishment;
- (3) Mark of Demerit;
- (4) Probation;

The university is also expected to give the offender counsel to desist from undesirable course of actions when it issues him/her a discipline.

Article 6 When a student has committed a minor offense against some university regulations but the offense is not so serious as to incur the lightest type of discipline as specified in Article 5, the university, his/her college or other concerning departments are expected to give him/her counsel to desist from undesirable course actions.

Article 7 Anyone who has conducted the following actions against the law, regulations and university code on the part of the offender may incur a harsher type of discipline:

If an international student under the force of a discipline receives a new discipline, the force of the latter will be added to the first one. However, the total force of the two disciplines will not, in principle, exceed 12 months.

When the force of a discipline ends and the offender has been behaving quite well during its force, he/she can apply for the cancellation of his/her discipline. The application will go to his/her college or other concerning departments for assessment and to the university for approval.

If an international student to graduate receives a discipline and its force will last beyond his/her graduation day, the force will be terminated on his/her graduation day. Article 11 Any international student under the force of a discipline is not entitled to any scholarship or honor.
